Good Day!

I am submitting this letter along with my resume for consideration, should you have projects which require the skill set I currently have. Included in the resume is my LinkedIn and GitHub page, which will be updated to show new skills or technologies I may have learned over time.

I'm also capable of quickly learning skills or technologies that you believe is needed to provide significant contributions to projects.

Thank you for taking time to consider my resume. My contact details are as provided above (and in my resume), should you decide to contact me.

Sincerely,
